Job Description and Position

The position offered is at the Full Professor Level in Organization (scientific sector SECS-P/10 according to the Italian academic system). The position is tenured, full time, with a minimum teaching load of 120 contact hours per academic year.

The annual gross salary - net of employer-paid social security contributions - is € 75,000. Whilst this is not negotiable, the faculty member will enjoy bi or tri-annual increases upon meeting nationwide targets as defined by the Ministry. The salary is subject to employee-paid social security contributions and Italian income tax. Depending on individual circumstances (e.g., being non-Italian resident for the past two years), the successful candidate may qualify for generous tax exemption.

Qualifications and Requirements

According to Italian legislation, eligible candidates shall already hold an equivalent academic position (Full Professor) at their current foreign or Italian university; alternatively, they must have already obtained the Italian habilitation as 'Full Professor' in the relevant scientific sector.

Furthermore, the Selection Committee will consider applicants meeting the following conditions:

- a) evidence of high-quality teaching and mentoring through student or department evaluations;
- b) demonstrated ability in fulfilling service duties at the department, the university and other bodies (e.g., professional or scientific associations);
- c) evidence of ability to raise funds for research;

- d) evidence of a consolidated experience in working with international scholars and activism in widely recognized academic societies (e.g. AoM, SMS, EURAM, EIASM, EGOS, ASSIOA, etc.);
d) fluency in English is extremely valued.

The Research Cluster is particularly interested in candidates who want to develop innovative teaching and research in the areas of HRM, OB, OT, OD and Entrepreneurship.
